RURAL CREDIT LAW
MAKES MONEY CHEAP

Former High-Interest Agencies
 Rush to Reduce Rates to the Farmers.

BIGGER LOANS AT LESS COST

May Borrow Half of Land Value
 at Less Than Five Per Cent.—
 Effect Already Being Felt Strongly.

The effect of the new rural credit law, passed by the Democratic Administration, already is being felt in lower interest rates, although the land banks have not yet been organized. Testimony to this effect is being given at the hearings held by the Federal Farm Loan Board in various western cities. At the hearings in Nebraska, numerous farmers stated that interest rates in the homesteading section of that State already have been reduced from one to two per cent. by the prospective competition of the thirty to forty-year loans that the land banks soon will be making.

The average loan that an insurance company or other loan agency would make on a 640-acre "Kinkaid" claim was $1,000. The commission deducted from this left the farmer $850. He paid interest at from 8 to 10 per cent. for five years on $1,000, making his average net interest rate from 11 to 13 per cent.

This now is stopped by the coming competition of the new rural credit law. Loan agents are rushing into Nebraska to make five-year loans at lower rates, to forestall the operation of the new law.

Lodge Protecting Banks.

This may account for the attack made on the Democratic rural credit measure by Senator Lodge, at Beverly, Mass., on Sept. 23, when he stated that money could be borrowed on better terms from regular agencies than under the rural credit act.

Mr. Lodge declares that this act will endanger the present National and co-operative banks and tend to break them down, according to the report of his speech in the Boston Globe.

The farmers of the West, who have suffered exorbitant interest rates for years, are not worrying about the banks. Their testimony before the Farm Loan Board showed that they are enthusiastic over the new law, and ready to help put it in successful operation.

Benefits to Farmers.

The new farm loan act provides means by which farmers can form co-operative or joint stock associations and borrow from the regional Federal Farm Loan Bank on the security of their land. Ten farmers can form one of these associations. They can borrow up to 50 per cent. of the value of their land, for a period running up to forty years.

The loan is repayable in small annual installments, or can be paid in full at any time. The estimated interest rate is 5 per cent. The farmer who borrows will share in the profits of the business, thereby reducing his interest rate to a still lower figure.

The Democratic National Committee has issued from its headquarters, at No. 30 East Forty-second street, New York, a pamphlet for free distribution fully explaining the rural credit law. It may be obtained from your Democratic State or County Committee.

LABOR TIDE FLOWING STEADILY TO WILSON

Organized Workers of Michigan and Illinois Indorse Democratic Candidates.

Enthusiastic offers of support continue to pour into National Democratic headquarters from working men and union leaders from every section of the United States and from every trade and industry. Not only will President Wilson get hundreds of thousands of votes from working men hitherto members of the Republican party, but thousands of wage-earners who have voted the Socialist ticket will this time mark their ballots for him.

The latest indorsement of President Wilson by a labor leader comes from John H. Walker, president of the Illinois State Federation of Labor.

"A working man who would vote for Hughes, in the face of his acts and declarations against labor, and in the face of the great accomplishments of Mr. Wilson for labor," said Mr. Walker, "must be uninformed, misinformed, blinded by prejudice, or carried away by party sentiment."

No word said for President Wilson will have greater effect than a statement by Andrew Furuseth, president of the Seamen's Union, declaring: "I am for the election of Woodrow Wilson and a Democratic Congress because of the enactment of the Seamen's law and of the Clayton act, recognizing and enforcing the equality before the law of workmen with other citizens."

Asking, "Are Ye for God or Mammon?" President A. B. Garretson of the Order of Railway Conductors urges President Wilson's re-election, in the October number of "The Railway Conductor." Mr. Garretson is a life-long Republican.

STRENGTHEN PAN-AMERICAN RELATIONS BY EDUCATING BOYS

By United Press.

Washington, Oct. 28.—One hundred and seven boys from Venezuela now have scholarships in American schools and most of them are already in this country and at their studies. U. S. Minister to Venezuela Preston McGoodwin reported today.

McGoodwin brought about the gift of the scholarships and is spending part of his vacation in this country investigating the success of the plan. He believes it will go far toward improving the understanding between the United States and Venezuela.

Heretofore, many of the sons of wealthy Latin-Americans have received their higher education in German and French schools and few have come to this country. This is one of the contributing causes for the close commercial relations which those countries have had with South America in the past. Because of this condition, I began over a year ago to work out a scholarship system, with the assistance of the American consuls in Venezuela.

"After correspondence with 400 American institutions of higher learning, we received scholarship offers from 116 and the Venezuelan government has accepted 107 so far. The recipients of the scholarships are chosen by the minister of public instruction. The son of General Gomez, president-elect of Venezuela, now in his second year at West Point preparatory school at Morristown, N. J., is the holder of one of them.

"Among others, one is in the agricultural college of Iowa University, one studying electrical engineering at Washington University, St. Louis, another taking the same course at Carnegie Institute, Pittsburgh, Pa., and one at St. John's Military Academy, Annapolis, Md. Five of the scholarship winners arrived in this country in September.

"In addition to the scholarship offer a number of American schools are obtaining positions for young men from South America each year in commercial and industrial firms. This is for the purpose of teaching them American business and manufacturing methods.

"Among the institutions which are doing this work is the College of Business Administration of Boston University which has placed a number of South American students with exporting and importing firms. Temple University, Philadelphia, Pa., is doing the same thing. Alvin H. Johnson, president of Baldwin Locomotive works of Philadelphia has given two apprenticeships for South American students of engineering and it is expected he will later increase this number. Charles M. Schwab, president of the Bethlehem Steel Co., has given four such apprenticeships. Five exporting firms in New York have offered apprenticeships.

"It is to be hoped that the same plan will be developed for young men from the other South American republics. Every man so educated and trained is sure to go back to his native land a booster for Pan-American trade."
